DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1, 3, 5 and 10 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 3-10 and 1, 3, 9 and 10 of copending Application No. 10/348,375 and 10/619,061, respectively.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because overlap in claimed subject matter

3. Applicants traverse the rejection and offer to “deal the issue at the time of allowance of the pending claims.” This is not a proper response to this rejection. A substantive traversal or terminal disclaimer is required.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1, 3, 5 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sonnabend US 4,384,096 or Gassenmeier et al. US 2001/0031714.

6. The rejection over Langley et al. is withdrawn.

7. The rejection set forth in the paper mailed 9/14/05 under 35 USC 103 is deemed proper and is herein repeated. The newly amended claims and the remarks filed in support thereof have been fully considered but have been found not persuasive.

8. Applicants argue that the Sonnabend and Gassenmeier are silent to the ionic strength and multi-staged emulsion polymers. This is not persuasive. The emulsion polymers in the art are seen to overlap in scope with those claimed. The monomeric constituents are disclosed and suggested to be used in combination with one another. The polymerization techniques are seen to overlap as well. The ionic strength of the polymers is a property and dependent upon the structure and composition of the polymer. The polymers of the prior art are seen to share the same structure and composition as those claimed. It is reasonable to presume that these polymers share the ionic strength limitation as claimed. Applicants have failed to show or allege that such is not the case.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
